

Give to the Max Day – Frequently Asked Questions

What is Give to the Max Day?

Give to the Max Day is a day for Minnesotans to come together to raise as much money as possible for nonprofits in 24 hours – starting at midnight on November 16 through midnight on November 17.

By engaging more than 40,000 donors to give to their favorite Minnesota charities in one day – Give to the Max Day — GiveMN.org is trying to break our own record for the biggest, best online giving event, showcasing Minnesota’s unparalleled generosity to the world!

What is GiveMN?

GiveMN is a collaborative venture to transform philanthropy in Minnesota by growing overall giving and moving more of it online. GiveMN is an independent 501(c) (3) supporting organization of the Minnesota Community Foundation.

Through its engaging web platform launched in November 2009, GiveMN helps nonprofit organizations of all sizes reach new donors, increases giving through fun and engaging campaigns and significantly reduces overall fundraising costs.

GiveMN helps individuals find, learn and contribute to Minnesota and national programs, facilitates quick and easy online donations by credit card and organizes online charitable contributions in one location.

What are the incentives offered on Give to the Max Day?

GiveMN is offering several incentives to inspire nonprofit and donor participation in Give to the Max Day:

- A $20,000 and $10,000 prize grant will be awarded to the top two nonprofits in the Twin Cities and the top two nonprofits in greater Minnesota that attract the largest number of individual donors on Give to the Max Day. Leader boards on GiveMN.org will track which nonprofits are ahead of the pack.
- Throughout the event, an individual donor will be randomly chosen every hour to have $1,000 given to the charity that received the donor’s original donation.

Nonprofits of all sizes across the state will have the chance to benefit from these random drawings.

- This year matching funds are structured differently. We are encouraging nonprofit organizations to offer their own dollar for dollar matching funds on their GiveMN pages. Nonprofits who secure matching funds for Give to the Max Day will be highlighted so donors will have the opportunity to double their dollars for hundreds of featured organizations.

Who can participate in Give to the Max Day?

Any individual may donate. Donations through the GiveMN.org site to nonprofit organizations are tax deductible and irrevocable (donations will not be refunded). Contributions may be made via credit and debit card only.

What organizations are eligible to receive donations and Give to the Max Day prizes?

Minnesota-based nonprofit organizations listed on GiveMN.org and its partner website, Razoo.com, are eligible to receive donations and prize grants.

Please note that private non-operating foundations cannot receive donations on GiveMN.org or Razoo.com and are not eligible for Give to the Max Day prizes. And organizations that provide services in Minnesota - but have an EIN based in another state - can receive donations on GiveMN.org but are not eligible for Give to the Max Day prize grants.

How much of the donation will go to the nonprofit?

Beginning October 1, GiveMN will pass on the cost of credit card transaction fees to the nonprofit organizations. This low, flat rate of 2.9% will be subtracted from the nonprofit's monthly check. We are thrilled to be able to offer this great value rate through our technology partners Razoo and their partnership with U.S. Bank, which waives select fees associated with processing credit and debit cards.

Is there a fee to participate?

There is no fee for an organization to participate in Give to the Max Day.

Is there a minimum donation?

The minimum donation on GiveMN.org is $10.

Is there a maximum donation?

There is no maximum donation limit on GiveMN.org.

Is there a limit to the amount an organization can receive on Give the Max Day?

There is no maximum to the amount an organization may receive.

How can an organization get setup to receive donations?

If you are already listed on GiveMN.org or Razoo.com, you should make sure your nonprofit's profile and page is updated and motivating (see our top 5 hints to create a great page at <http://bit.ly/aiLUlu>). To update your profile, make sure you first claim administrative access on GiveMN.org. To request administrative access to your nonprofit, go to <http://givemn.razoo.com/p/Claim> and register with your nonprofit's email address.

You will need to use your nonprofit's administrative account to feature matching funds that your nonprofit is offering on Give to the Max Day. In October, we will provide specific instructions on how your nonprofit can spotlight matching funds.

If your nonprofit is not listed on GiveMN or Razoo when you do a search, please email our partner, Razoo, at np@razoo.com for more information on how you can get listed.

How will an organization know who has donated to them?

Organizations who have registered with GiveMN or Razoo can track donations in real time online. Nonprofits can also download a detailed, constantly updated, donation report at any time through their administrative account to thank and follow-up with individual donors as well as tabulate donations and number of donors. This .csv file can be used in Excel and is widely compatible with other spreadsheet applications.
